WVS Annual Meeting

Thad Van Bueren, President, WVS

You are cordially invited to the Westport Village Society's 22nd Annual Meeting on Friday October 3rd starting at 6:30 PM at the Westport Church.

This is a great chance to connect with neighbors, learn about local activities, and help us plan for the future. The event begins with an informal reception with snacks and drinks and a chance for members and neighbors to connect. Feel free to contribute something savory or sweet if the inspiration strikes!

There are many ways to contribute to the WVS, and we thank all who have donated energy to connect us as a community. Steve Brigham wrote eloquently about community service some months ago. His article coincided with an upsurge in community activism this past year. For a village of our size, it is inspiring to be part of that growing social engagement. Many contributions occur from the personal initiative of neighbors willing to share knowledge, skills, and enthusiasm. However, groups like the WVS also serve an important function because they can accomplish larger objectives. This year we will open the WVS Annual Meeting with a special forum focusing on community activities and your interest in developing a Westport Community Center. WVS Directors will also be elected by voting members of the Society. Voting will occur by secret ballot to ensure that members vote for those whom they feel will best serve the organization. We encourage anyone interested in serving on the Board to step forward and offer your candidacy to the membership.

THANK YOU TO ALL THE FIREFIGHTERS AND SUPPORT PERSONNEL FOR YOUR
BRAVE WORK ON THE LODGE FIRE –
MISSION ACCOMPLISHED!

What is Community?

Thad Van Bueren and Sarah Mathias

Some say that there are only seven degrees of separation between all the people on our planet. Put differently, we are all connected. While it is certainly valuable to recognize our shared humanity, having a personal relationship with over 7 billion people is not really possible. That is where community comes in. Communities are made up of people who choose to interact. The word comes from the Latin communitas, which means "society, fellowship, or friendly intercourse." It has to do with positive social engagement.

Communities span many scales, from neighborhoods to social networks that span the globe. Westport is a community. Many of us were drawn to or grew up and stayed in this small village because the area is beautiful, the people are closely knit, and life in a rural village has other desirable aspects. Unlike urban areas where it is easy to be anonymous, we know one another. But associating with neighbors remains a choice. Most of us also enjoy our own space.

There is a growing buzz in our village about building community. We have a recreation and community enrichment program, help offered by neighbors to other neighbors, and a variety of activities (including this newsletter) sponsored by community organizations. It takes energy to engage one another, but the rewards are many. The impetus for this article is to encourage you to get involved with your neighbors.

We all have something to share, whether it is simply a fun activity like a holiday celebration, a skill, or sharing information. If you are thinking of organizing an activity or class, WVS can help with publicity and arrangements. Some fun activities that have come up in recent discussions at community meetings include music, movement, movie nights, holiday parties, nature walks, reading and discussion groups, art happenings, and presentations about sustainable practices, wild crafting, fermented foods, history, and nature.

If you are interested in organizing something, it helps to plan ahead and know how to reserve the space. The important contact numbers are found below. Then comes the most important part: letting the community know about the event. Contact The Westport Wave Editor Steve Brigham at westportwave@wildblue.net or PO Box 237, Westport to get your notice or article into this monthly newsletter. Plans are also being developed to post a more complete calendar of events on the WVS web site.

For events in the Westport Community Church talk to Millie Saunders (964-3030) and sign up on the calendar kept on the bulletin board inside the Church (ask to borrow the key at the Store). Any questions or concerns regarding the grounds may be directed to Baile Oakes (964-7721). Any questions about helping out at or donating to the Community Garden may be addressed to Steve Brigham at 964-6431 or stevebrigham@wildblue.net. Contact Tabby Korhummel (367-0010 or tabikat@mcn.org) if you'd like to use the recreation center (school building). In some cases, the building can be used for free; in others, a sliding scale will apply. You can get in touch with Thad Van Bueren (964-7272 or thad@mcn.org) if you want to stage a community event on the Westport Headlands.

Note: Though for most events it will not matter, it is important to keep in mind that the school building still belongs to the school district and as such it is subject to rules regarding schools and their grounds.

Specifically, no alcohol or tobacco are allowed in the building or on the grounds and, probably of less import, California's Gun-Free School Zone law applies (no firearms within 1000 feet of the grounds unless in a private residence or being properly transported).

Community Center Committee Update

Sarah Mathias

The Community Center Committee will be taking this month off and reconvening in November (meeting date will be published in the November Wave). However, that doesn't mean that all things "Community Center" have been put on hold. Far from it. The WVS Annual Meeting on October 3rd will open with a forum on the topic. Please attend and add your voice to the ongoing conversation: What vision do we want to put our unified energy into? What do we want available to us as far as programs and facilities? Help us answer these questions as a community and let the Westport Village Society know where our community's interests lie. If you wish to add your voice without your body, send your comments on this topic to me at sarah.e.mathias@gmail.com.

What's Happening at the Westport Community Recreation Center

Tabby Korhummel

On Saturday, October 18th, at the recreation center (school building), Rheta Shaw will teach a kids' class on how to make Fairy Houses and other Halloween crafts! (Details to be announced.)

Also, we have started an Artist group that meets every 3rd Sunday from 3:00PM to 5:00PM. Everyone is welcome to join in – Sunday, October 19th is our next meeting. At the recreation center (school building). Bring your sketch books, easels, paints, etc. We will either paint at an undecided location in Westport or stay in and work from a picture (of your choice). The group can choose to close the session with a critique. Questions? Ask Tabby at (707) 367-0010, or tabikat@mcn.org

Kids' Movie Night

Sarah Mathias

Join us for our next Kid's Movie Night on October 18 at the Rec Center. This month we'll have a short-film double-feature for the little ones. Doors open at 6 pm, with our first feature starting at 6:30. We'll be showing "It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown" and "Room on the Broom" with an intermission between. The intended audience is young children, but any one who feels like having a little fun watching a movie may attend. Blankets and pillows worked well for the little ones last month, so let's try it again. Adults, if you don't want to sit in wooden chairs, bring your comfiest folding/camp chairs for yourselves.

Also, as I have a young child, I find myself planning events that he can enjoy. However, if any one would like to set up a movie night for the older kids or adults, contact me (962-0181 or sarah.e.mathias@gmail.com) or Tabby and we'll coordinate use of the TV for you.

The Westport Community Church Reaches Out To All Faiths

Baile Oakes

The Westport Community Church is reaching out and expanding its spiritual offerings to the Westport Community. All faiths are welcome, and please call Millie Saunders at 964-3030 if you have any needs or suggestions. Let's put the Spirit back in our Church!

The third Sunday of each month will now find a Quaker meeting in the sanctuary. The first of these meetings held on Sunday, October 9th starting at 10:00AM., led by Katherine White from Fort Bragg. The Quaker service that Katherine will offer is a more meditative approach to worship, where participants sit quietly, opening to the Spirit. If an attendee is called to speak after this silent time, they can stand and speak their mind. "Attendees" are encouraged to speak once "the Spirit finds you" thus meaning one should only speak if the message is good for the community and beneficial to the meeting. A traditional Quaker belief is everyone has "that of God" inside, and everyone's inner light and spirit can be shown. People have even been known to stand up and sing songs or recite poetry.

Community Bible Study at The Westport Church

Gary Quinton

All are cordially invited to our new Community Bible Study meetings every Thursday at 7:00PM at the Westport Church. This is an informal, friendly group with a diversity of interests in Bible study, with no set agenda except to study the Bible. We welcome new ideas, experience, and directions, so please join us on Thursday evenings every week or whichever Thursdays you can make it. Thanks so much!

Community Bill of Rights Workshop October 9th at 6:00PM For "We, The People"

Willow Rain

A "Community Bill of Rights" is on the ballot for November 2014 as Measure S. Its intent is to assert the rights of all residents, natural communities and ecosystems of Mendocino County to live free from contamination, harm and chemical trespass by unconventional hydrocarbon extraction - or "fracking".

The Ordinance bans fracking in Mendocino County by establishing the Right to self-governance, the Right to clean air, soil and water, the Rights of Nature to exist and flourish, and the Right of residents, natural communities and ecosystems in Mendocino County to live free of chemical trespass.

On Thursday October 9th, at 6:00PM at the Westport School building, a free workshop will be held for the people of Westport to explore this Ordinance. It will be an opportunity to raise questions like: What exactly does the Ordinance contain? How will it impact people personally? What are Community Rights? What consequences might occur if the Ordinance passes? Who decides that fracking can happen in Mendocino if the Ordinance does not pass?

This workshop is a conversation-based exploration of the Ordinance with people working and learning together. There will be a very brief presentation of history highlights and explanations of some legal terms. Participants will be provided with a hard copy of the Ordinance text accompanied by illustrative diagrams designed to aid understanding, remembering and sharing with others.

This workshop has been designed, and will be presented by Willow Rain. Her background is in teaching and group facilitation. She has studied Community Rights issues for several years and has attended the formal training about Community Rights that is provided by the Community Environmental Legal Defense Fund (CELDF.org).

Westport Cemetery Inventory

Thad Van Bueren

There has been a lot going on at the Westport Cemetery over the past couple of months. Gary Quinton organized a group of local volunteers and other helpers to rebuild the front fence. They installed new posts, reused most of the original fence boards, and added a new coat of paint. Thanks go out to all who assisted in that activity.

While many historic sketch maps and lists of graves have been produced over the years, questions existed about the accuracy and completeness of existing knowledge. For that reason, a detailed inventory of the cemetery was carried out over Labor Day weekend by local archaeologists Thad Van Bueren and Nic Grosjean. The inventory mapped every monument and family plot with GPS and integrated the results with boundary mapping produced by licensed surveyor Lee Welty.

The recent inventory included high-resolution photographs of every monument and family plot and an comprehensive table providing full details on the inscriptions on each monument, their material and symbols, and other information. A searchable inventory spreadsheet will be posted on the history page of the WVS web site in October.

Important Air Ambulance News

Steve Brigham, Editor

In rural Westport, our ambulance quite often is a helicopter, which affords safe and speedy transport to hospitals both near and far. This modern “air ambulance” comes complete with highly trained medics and the latest in life-saving equipment. However, if your insurance doesn’t cover this ambulance service and you are transported in a medical emergency, you could get a bill for $25,000 or more!

Unless you subscribe to the air ambulance service, that is. Two different companies potentially serve Westport, CALSTAR and REACH. Practically speaking, however, a 911 dispatch for an air ambulance goes out to the service with the nearest helicopter base, which up until now for us has been CALSTAR. On November 1st, however, REACH will be putting a new helicopter into service which will be based in Willits. That will make it the nearest service to Westport, so REACH will now get the call instead of CALSTAR.

For true peace of mind, it doesn’t hurt to subscribe to both of our ambulance services (CALSTAR is $50 annually for a family membership, and REACH is $65.00 annually for a family membership). But please take note: starting November 1st, even if you belong to CALSTAR, if you don’t belong to REACH, you could be out of luck (or a ton of money) in a medical emergency. REACH can be reached at (800) 793-0010, or visit www.airmedcarenetwork.com

Recycling News

Donna Brigham

This is an important notice about your TAP (Tin-Aluminum-Plastic) recycling. That’s the real big bin where you put stuff but you don’t get paid for it. Because of a miscommunication, I have incorrectly been accepting scrap metal for the big bin recently. From now on, the Westport Recycle Center cannot accept any scrap metal for recycling other than tin cans and aluminum. Scrap metal can still be recycled at our Solid Waste of Willits facility in Willits, however. The Westport Recycle and Transfer Station

(in back of the Westport Firehouse) is open from 10:00AM to 2:00PM on Thursdays and Fridays, and 10:00AM to 4:00PM on Saturdays. Thanks!

Court-Ordered Community Service Opportunities in Westport

Gary Quinton

Do you need to serve court-ordered Community Service or serve in a Sheriff's Department Work Release program? Why not serve it in your community? We would value your time!

There are several places and varied types of work in Westport where you can provide your hours and get credit towards the satisfaction of your court order, including work for the Westport Volunteer Fire Department, Westport-Ten Mile Cemetery District, and the Westport Village Society. Jobs include grass/weed cutting, painting, handyman work, and more.

Please call us and tell us about your work skills, and let's see if we can match your skills to work that needs to be done. That match-up will be a benefit to you and your Westport Community at the same time, and your work can be confidential and non-judgmental. We can also help you with the registration paperwork and compliance/completion documents. If you are interested, please call Gary Quinton at 964-7073.

Rain In September!

Steve Brigham

It hadn't rained much around these parts since March, so it's nice to see Westport greening up a bit these days after a couple of good rains in September. Although we often get at least one rain in September, it's typically on the short side of generous. But this time, we lucked into a couple of subtropical moisture streams – in both cases, more rain was actually falling than it seemed. So we ended up with a healthy 2.61 inches of rain for September (as measured here on Pacific Avenue), which is about 4 times our average for the month.

That got me to thinking (a dangerous thing, I know). If it hadn't rained at all, how much would it have cost me to buy water from our water district to water my yard that good? Since our property is around an acre in size, let's call it an even acre for purposes of calculation. That means in those two rains, my yard got 71,057 gallons of water, which would have cost me $426.34 if I used my garden hose instead of the sky (of course there would have been other costs, like me getting run out of town for using all that water, which is 12 times the amount we're supposed to use every month!) And how about you folks up in the hills with those nice 20-acre parcels – each one of you just got over 1.4 million gallons of free water, for a total savings of $8526.84! (So you see, patience really does pay off!)

Does our generous September rainfall mean that we're going to get a drought-busting wet winter? Well, not exactly. Last year, we got 1.32 inches of rain in September, but then it didn't rain at all in October – in fact, it hardly rained at all until February! The year before, it didn't rain at all in September, but then we got over 21 inches of rain from October through December (although we still ended up with a dry year).

One thing for sure these days is that you really can't count on it raining all the time in Westport anymore. So when it does rain, what you want is that extra subtropical moisture in the clouds that give you the big totals. I think we'll get a little more of that this year, and I'm predicting around 42 inches or so for our "rainy" season, which is nearly our average amount. Exactly when it's going to rain is hard to tell at this point, but I do think that we'll have some good rains in November and maybe December, and the Farmer's Almanac is predicting generous rains for next February and March, just like we had this year. We'll see!

Committee Report on the Memorial Bench for Toby Hickman

Bill Knapp

At the last Quarterly Meeting of WVS, the Board agreed to accept the offer from the California Blacksmiths Association of a memorial sculpture/bench to honor Toby Hickman. In addition, the Board agreed to locate an appropriate place in Westport for the piece and formed a committee to look at possible locations. Possible sites would include, but not be limited to, the Headlands. The sculpture is now finished and ready for delivery to Westport.

The photo above right shows the assembled sculpture prior to disassembly and painting. It has not been reassembled since paint and final finishing to allow for delivery. The seat (redwood slab) is 7 ft long the total length is about 11.5 ft and the height at the top of the "hammer" is 7 ft. The finish is expected to last between 10 and 25 years before needing any maintenance. The blacksmith's association is willing to provide future maintenance. Michael Bondi, in whose studio the sculpture was created, can come to Westport to discuss any details or answer questions.

The committee, with most of the WVS Board present plus Lee Tepper and Ann Woodhead (Toby's wife), reviewed four potential sites, all with public access. One of the sites, along Hwy 1 just south of the driveway to the recycle center and WVFD, was removed from the list because access would require improvements beyond the scope manageable by WVS. Two of the remaining three sites are on the Headlands. The third is the small rise at the west end of the WVFD firehouse just above the entrance to the recycle center. It offers a very nice view of the western horizon and decent views of the north and south coastline. However, the foreground is the water treatment pond and the sprinkler field associated with it.

One of the headland sites is near the top of the stairs that go down to the beach. It is in what is now a blackberry patch to the east of the path between the footbridge and the stairs. It would provide a private space, not visible from the highway, but affording nice views of West Rock and the coastline, both north and south. The second spot on the Headlands is located at the northwest corner near the bluff, but back from the edge. It would be in a more open area, partially visible from the highway and clearly visible from the open area near the podium and the area where the WVFD BBQ is held. It also offers nice views of West Rock and the coastline, both north and south. The two headland sites are marked with story poles.

It is expected that a final decision will be made at the WVS quarterly meeting on Wednesday October 22. The committee invites and would appreciate input, including other possible sites from members of the Westport Community. The upcoming annual meeting, Friday October 3rd, would be a good opportunity to discuss this with WVS Board members and others in the community. You can also contact Bill Knapp, committee chair, at bill@netwidget.com or 964-7355.

Ashland Director Brings Sophisticated Irish Ghost Story to The Mendocino Theatre Company

Felicia Freitas

(Editor's Note: Westport's own up-and-coming stage superstar Pen Corbin is starring once again – this time in a just-in-time-for-Halloween ghost story with Mendocino performances through October 26th. So you gotta go see it!)

The Mendocino Theatre Company is proud to present Conor McPherson's gripping and intimate Irish play, Shining City. The production is directed by prominent Ashland, Oregon based Director, Peter Alzado. This thrilling and engrossing ghost story is performed just in time for the Halloween season.

When a therapist in Dublin, Ireland named Ian meets his first patient after leaving the Priesthood, the lives of both men are changed forever. In the course of treating John, a recent widower, Ian must confront his own burdens when he learns that the man is being visited by the ghost of his wife. Directed by Peter Alzado, a guest artist from Ashland, Oregon, Shining City features hauntingly poetic language that is the hallmark of Irish playwrights. This stunningly moving and beautiful ghost story is sure to be a sophisticated theatrical treat for audiences.

Shining City features notable Mendocino Theatre Company performers Penuel Corbin, Carter Sears, Felicia Freitas, and Adam David Jones. It plays at the Mendocino Theatre Company at 45200 Little Lake St. in Mendocino through October 26th, Thursdays-Saturdays at 8:00 p.m., and 2:00 p.m. on selected Sundays.

For tickets or more information, please contact the Mendocino Theatre Company Box Office at (707) 937-4477, or go to www.mendocinotheatre.org.

Are You Reading This In Color?

OK, the photo above is in black-and-white, but all the other photos in The Westport Wave are in full color. Just a friendly reminder here that anyone at any time can go to www.westportvillagesociety.org and read or download current and past issues of The Westport Wave in full color, absolutely free. Plus, the websites and e-mails mentioned in the newsletters are live links, which is quite handy when you want more information. So tell your friends, and let's all read The Westport Wave!

The Man In The Tree

Steve Brigham

Have you seen this face? We'll, he's somewhere in the Village of Westport – a splendid creation of Art Crone. (Hint – if you're at the Westport Hotel, you're just a few feet away from him!)

Too Many Blood Moons

Steve Brigham

For most of human history, the only show in town every night has been the sky. And every once in a while, the night sky does make some pretty amazing shows, from comets and meteors to lunar eclipses. Humans always try to look for significance in everything (it's the way our brains are wired, and sometimes it even works for our own good!) Even these days, when the night sky puts on a really big show, people are all over it.

On October 8th, between 3:25AM and 4:24AM, the Full Hunter's Moon over Westport will be totally eclipsed by the Earth's shadow (maximum totality is at 3:55AM), so let's hope it's a clear night then. Because of the Earth's shadow (and sunlight passing through the Earth's atmosphere reflected by the Moon), the Full Moon will appear red – and so it has become (recently, at least) fashionable to call it a Blood Moon. But as Ron Popeil used to say, that's not all... and this time it may be a matter of Biblical proportions!

As you may already know, the October 8th Blood Moon is the second in a lunar tetrad (of four fully eclipsed Blood Moons in two years): April 14th-15th and October 8th, 2014 and April 4th and September 28th, 2015. By and of itself, a lunar tetrad is surprisingly common (this is our 55th one since the year 1 A.D). Interestingly enough, they come in cycles, with 300 years of 5 to 8 per century followed by 300 years without any at all. The Biblical connection in our current tetrad is with the Jewish calendar. Even though the Jewish calendar is based on the lunar cycle, with some major holidays usually occurring during a full moon (when full lunar eclipses happen), it is uncommon when each full eclipse in a tetrad coincides perfectly with a major Jewish holiday (this is only the eighth such tetrad since the year 1 A.D). Four Blood Moons on four major Jewish holidays in two years – this time, it’s two Passovers and two Feasts of Tabernacles, with an extra bonus of a total solar eclipse right in the middle of it all, on March 20th, 2015 (which just happens to be the first day of the Jewish religious year). Is all of this significant?

Interestingly enough, it’s mostly been Christian ministers, not Jewish rabbis, who are getting all excited over this, and it all has to do with interpretations of Biblical prophecies. So just like the end of the Mayan Calendar 2 years ago, it’s Apocalypse time once again! There are some very involved celestial interpretations of our current set of Blood Moons (cataloging each Jewish holiday tetrad during the past 2000 years and the momentous historical events which followed) that you can read on the Internet. Now I’m not much into all these predictions (I’m basically just a statistics and information nut), but they are interesting to read.

Another unusual thing about our current lunar tetrad is that all four of the fully eclipsed Blood Moons in this current series will be visible from all or part of the U.S.A. (unless it’s cloudy, we get to see them all in Westport). But in Israel, they don’t even get to see the first 3 Blood Moons (they do get to see the total solar eclipse next March (we don’t), and also the last Blood Moon next September 28th). Oh yeah, I should also mention for all of you astronomers out there that I do realize that the April 4th, 2015 lunar eclipse is nearly a “partial”, with a totality of just 4 minutes and 43 seconds (the other “totals” average an hour long). Is that cheating? Are we getting carried away here?

Eclipses happen, but what about all this grand human speculation? Are ancient prophecies really happening, or is it just our overactive minds making too many false connections? Does the fact that we’re thinking something make stuff happen that wouldn’t have happened if we didn’t think anything, or thought something else? Does it even matter what we think? Well, I think about these kinds of things all the time. “There you go again!” as Ronald Reagan might say...

It's Time for Halloween in Westport!

Sarah Mathias

Come goblins, ghosts, ghouls, witches, fairy princesses, and superheroes! Halloween is on it's way, and we'll be celebrating right here in Westport! Festivities will start at 5 pm on Halloween for the little one's, with fun and games at the Rec Center. Bring the kids in costume (or bring the costume to put on later) to enjoy each others' company and healthy snacks before trick-or-treating. They can even get their faces painted to go with their costumes by Tabby from 5-6. We'll leave for tricks-or-treats sometime after 6 pm and meet back at the church for a potluck gathering of the whole community from 7:00 to 9:00. We invite everyone to come, in costume or not, and bring something tasty to share.

Your humble Editor, by the time he finishes yet another issue of The Westport Wave.
